Fire Causes $50,000 Damage To East Arlington Building

Firemen of four cities and towns assisted Arlington firemen in battling a spectacular three-hour, $50,000 two-alarm fire which swept a block of East Arlington stores Monday afternoon.

Victims of the fire, which, according to Fire Chief Richard J. Tierney, started in Gregory's Tailor shop, 160 Mass. ave., were: John the Barber, East Arlington Lunch, Semple's Plumbing store, Arlington Curtain Laundry, The East Arlington fish market and Teddy's shoe repair.

The fire, presumably caused by a discarded cigarette, swept into four stores before it was discovered by Lawrence Lyons, 18, who was standing on the corner of Egerton rd.

Deputy Chief Charles Flynn, sounding a second alarm on arrival bringing apparatus from Belmont, Somerville, Cambridge and Medford. Over 1000 persons were attracted to the blaze by the heavy smoke which poured into the air.

No one was injured in the blaze except a three-month old kitten which was saved from suffocation by Captain Robert Mahoney and firemen Bart Murphy, who pulled the cat from the window of the East Arlington lunch.

The heavy holiday traffic was routed by the Arlington police and the M. T. A. was forced to use busses to transport their passengers around the disaster area.

Chief Tierney said the fire apparently started in the tailor shop and spread through the walls into a chasm between the tin ceiling and roof. As soon as the first door was opened, in order that firemen might battle the blaze, the draft sent the flames swirling through the whole block.

Three stores, Freddie's Donut shop, Pendleton Radio and the Melrose Spa were saved from destruction by a fire wall which separates them from the rest of the block.

Charles Azzarian is the owner of the block in which Gregory's shop, Semple's plumbing and the Curtain Laundry were the most seriously damaged. All of the other stores received substantial water and smoke damage.

Chief Tierney said the exact cause of the fire is still undetermined.

Volunteers Needed For Civilian Defense Here

To The Residents of Arlington:

The enclosed pamphlet, "Protection from the Atomic Bomb" was prepared by the Civil Defense Agency, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and is being forwarded to every home in our community for your information by your department of Civil Defense.

This pamphlet briefly and very clearly describes exactly what you must do to protect yourself in the event of an atomic explosion. Study this booklet NOW and SAVE it for future reference. We feel certain that the importance of such study is obvious and, by knowing these procedures, you will be able to better protect yourself and your family in such an emergency.

The need for civilian defense preparedness in view of present international complications is apparent. We have already made plans for the protection of the residents of Arlington, with all municipal departments and employees forming the nucleus of our defense organization.

Tragedy Averted By Light Sleeping Father

A wife and daughter were saved from death Friday night because a light sleeping husband heard his wife coughing.

Angelo A. Colucci of 102 Alpine st., was awakened by his wife's coughing. He sat up in bed and was nearly overcome by illuminating gas which was leaking into the house from a broken pipe in the street.

Mr. Colucci opened all of the windows and attempted to revive his wife and daughter, who were unconscious from the fumes.

A call for help was sent to the police department where Officers Walter O'Leary and Gerald Dugan with the Special service unit and ladders from fire headquarters raced to the scene.

The firemen under Deputy Chief Thomas Egan revived Mrs. Colucci and her daughter Patricia with the newly purchased dual purpose inhalator resuscitator.

Mr. Colucci and another daughter Nancy were treated with pure oxygen, by the fire squad, in order to clear their lungs. Dr. Allen McCarthy, temporary police physician, went to the scene and supervised the treatment.

All of the residents of the Alpine st., area were warned of the leak by the police officers. It was repaired Saturday morning.

Many Dogs Abandoned Since Xmas

Samuel Femia, Arlington dog officer, reported this week there has been an increasing number of abandoned dog cases reported to his office since the holidays.

The dogs, according to Mr. Femia, are puppies which were presumably given as Christmas presents, and have since been turned out for various reasons. The dog officer says there is no need to abandon these pups. A call to his office or the Arlington police station will give the pup a good home.

Mr. Femia states he will call for the dogs at any time convenient to the homeowner and he will insure that the puppy will get a good home.

Plan "March Of Dimes" Committee Session At Police Station Tonight

The Arlington plans for the 1951 "March of Dimes" campaign will be unfolded at a committee meeting in the Arlington Police Station to-night at 7:30 P.M.

William J. Sinclair, President of the Arlington Auxiliary Police Association will outline to committee the details of the drive which will run from January 15th to January 30th.

Representatives of the Arlington Fire, Police and School Depts. as well as the PTA-Auxiliary Police and other civic organizations will be present to unite in the annual fight against the great crippling Polio.

The near record infantile toll of last year has brought to Middlesex County a deficit that can only be met through strong Community Wide Support in Arlington and the other towns.

The pre-organization response seems to indicate that Arlington will put on as intensive a drive as last years $8,700.00 fund collection. The purpose of to-night's meeting will be to build on last years basic work in order to meet this years' goal.

Hospital Bldg. Fund To Start Approve Repairs

The Symmes Arlington Building Fund Drive will be set in motion tonight at the organizational meeting of precinct co-ordinators. The meeting, at the Building Fund Headquarters, 452 Massachusetts ave., is for the purpose of completing plans for holding Precinct meetings throughout Arlington.

At these Precinct meetings, solicitors will be oriented to canvass their neighborhoods in the all-out drive for funds to build a much-needed wing onto the Symmes Hospital.

Thieves Steal $800 In Break

Thieves struck again Saturday night, this time at a plumbing store in Arlington Heights where $800 was reported stolen.

An Arlington route officer making the rounds of back doors discovered the door of Schultz plumbing shop, 1180A Massachusetts ave., Arlington, open.

Investigation proved the door had been forced. Charles Schultz the proprietor, reported a green cash box, containing $780 in checks and $25 in cash missing.

This is the first time in a month of petty breaks that any substantial sum of money has been stolen.

Massachusetts Avenue route officers and store owners have been harassed during the month with a series of small breaks. Two of these breaks have been made by bandits who enter windows eight to ten feet from the ground.

Store owners are warned to make sure that back doors and windows shops are locked before closing the store for the night.

This will hamper anyone attempting to gain entrance and may be the factor causing their capture.

Late Thursday night an Arlington youth, who was going to the store, was shot at twice from the Brattle st., railroad bridge.

Jarrick Stephens, 16, of 146 Washington st., was walking along Brattle st., towards Massachusetts ave., when, after he had passed under the railroad bridge on Brattle st., two shots whistled past his ear. He claimed the shots were fired from atop the bridge.

Officer Walter O'Leary investigated the area about the bridge but could not find anyone. Inspectors have been assigned to the case.

Committee On Town Meeting Plan To Report January 10

The Committee appointed by the Moderator to draw up a proposed Legislative Act for a Town Manager Form of Government for the Town of Arlington organized on November 9, 1950 and elected Mr. James C. Doyle chairman and Mrs. Marjorie T. Curtis secretary.

It has met frequently since that time in accordance with the instructions of the Special Town Meeting held on October 4, 1950, under Article 2 of the Warrant, and has prepared an initial draft of a proposed Town Manager Act for the town of Arlington.

The Committee plans to hold a public hearing on Wednesday, Jan. 10, 1951 at 8:00 P.M. in the main auditorium of the Robbins Memorial Town Hall. This hearing will be an opportunity for the citizens of Arlington to acquaint themselves with the outline and the main provisions of the Town Manager Act, as prepared to date by the Committee, and to express their opinions on the proposed Act which may prove helpful to the Committee in shaping the final draft of the Act. The Act will then be published in its entirety in the Town Warrant.

Purcell Out: Barnstead Enters Selectmen Fight

Girl Bound For N. Y. Found Here

A fifteen year-old girl, who left the home of a New Hampshire aunt to return to New York, was found wandering in Arlington, Thursday night, by a Whittemore st., resident.

Constance Jones, 15, 376 Beachmont Dr., New Rochelle N. Y., was seen wandering on Whittemore st.

Definite withdrawal of Joseph A. Purcell, chairman of Arlington's Board of Selectmen, and Democratic aspirant for State Senate in the fall campaign, from the coming March own elections was announced this week. Fifteen candidates have taken out papers with the Town Clerk's office and at least one other candidate had formally announced his intention of seeking public office.

I would like to thank the citizens of Arlington for the kind and generous confidence they have always accorded me whenever I have aspired to public office and have always tried to the best of my ability to justify the trust they reposed in me. In a statement to the PRESS, Mr. Purcell explained his decision not to seek re-election as follows:

I wish to announce that I am not a candidate for re-election to the Board of Selectmen at the forthcoming annual election in March. The increased demands upon my time from my law practise make it impossible for me to be a candidate for public office at the present time.

There are two candidates so far for the Board of Assessors: Arthur W. Sampson, running for re-election; and J. Albert Hansen, 10 White st. J. Wilbur Anderson has taken out papers for Treasurer-Collector. Three incumbent members of the

Barnstead To Run For Office Of Selectman

William A. Barnstead of 311 Appleton st., today announced his candidacy for the office of selectman. Mr. Barnstead at 31 is one of Arlington's most successful business men. He is resident and owner of the Wm. Barnstead Engineering Co., 39 Sudbury st., Boston.

Mr. Barnstead stated that he will conduct his campaign on one single issue—a strong town manager act. As one of the leaders of the original group which presented such an act to the town last fall, Mr. Barnstead supports unequivocally this proposed change. He feels that a town manager, given proper authority, will make possible substantial savings through the introduction of sound business principles.

Mr. Barnstead's own business career is of interest. Starting in 1947 with a capital of less than $5000, his firm is today grossing more than $100,000 a year. His principal product—a water still—is a development of the first water still in this country, invented by his grandfather in 1873 for the Massachusetts School of Pharmacy. Mr. Barnstead has been a resident of Arlington since 1924, when his family moved from Cambridge. He graduated from Arlington High School in 1938 where he was a member of the hockey team. He married the former Charlotte L. Gillingham of Lexington. They have one son—William A. Jr., age four. Mr. Barnstead and his family are members of the Park Ave. Congregational Church.

Mr. Barnstead served in the US Army during the war. He is town meeting member from precinct 14. In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Barnstead stated that as a comparative young man, he is in excellent position to understand the problems which confront the many new home owners of Arlington. His supporters feel that, in combining the vitality of youth with proved business experience, he is able to offer Arlington capable service.

Holiday Accident Record Gratifying

The year 1950, which paralleled 1949 in holiday mishaps, drifted out of the lives of Arlingtonians in an exceptionally quiet manner.

There were only two traffic accidents of any consequence over the long week end. Friday night, for the 21st time this year, an irresistible force met an immovable object in the persons of an automobile vs. the Lake st. safety island, and again the immovable force won out.

A sedan driven by Manassah C. Bradley, a Boston police officer, went into a skid in an attempt to avoid striking the battered concrete safety island. The rear end of the car hit the buttress spinning the car into a parking meter and up against an electric pole. The driver of the machine was shaken up.

The car was damaged on the left rear, right side and the two right wheels were buckled under. It had to be towed away.

Saturday afternoon, Ruth Severance of 40 Myrtle st., Arlington reported to police that while proceeding inbound on Warren st. near 86, she struck a small girl, who raced from between two parked cars.

Ellen Buckley, 3, of 12 Lewis ave., was taken to the Symmes Arlington hospital by her mother where she was treated for cuts on her head. She was held overnight for observation.

New Years eve, registry inspectors and Arlington police officers were alerted for what was expected to be a disastrous night.

Much to the surprise of all, not even a bumper was scratched in record breaking traffic.

Chief of Police Archie F. Bullock credits this to the men of his safety department who have been conducting an ever increasing safety campaign to protect both motorists and pedestrians.

Usually if the Christmas week-end passes with only minor traffic skirmishes then the New Year week-end breaks all records. This year, both week-ends were unmarked by any serious crashes.

Town department sanding equipment was put on the road early Sunday night to give a heavy coating to the ice-coated highways.

Everyone connected with the annual safety drives is still marveling at the grand cooperation with the roads in such miserable condition.

It is an old adage that whatever happens the first day of the year will happen throughout the year. If this be so, then Arlington can look forward to winning the safety award of 1951, which means a happy New Year for everyone.

Chess Players At New Year's At Home Event

The traditional chess players' "at home" New Year's Day celebration was observed by the Arlington Chess Club at the home of Mr. Audrey Whynnaught, 825 Concord Turnpike. Among those present were David Young, John Sampson, Morris Marshall, Tom Callahan, Roger Curtis, Spencer Dormitzer and Stanley Glynn — all of Arlington — William Phippen and Dr. Chester Wolf of Winchester, Allen Stockwell of Reading, and Arthur Freeman of Belmont. Arthur is Arlington's own chess prodigy. At the age of 12 he is showing progress which is already embarrassing veteran players. Delightful refreshments were served by Mr. Whynnaught.

At a Christmas party, held Dec. 22, at the home of Roger Curtis, Audrey Whynnaught was re-elected president and David Young, 21 Walnut st., made secretary treasurer. The rolls of the Arlington Chess Club are open to all players. When the current Metropolitan League tournament ends Jan. 26 a club tournament will be held. Any one wishing to compete should get in touch with Mr. Whynnaught or Mr. Young.

Arlington has two teams of 5 men playing in the League. John Sampson of Arlington High School is captain of the first team which Morris Marshall is captain of the second team, with a score of 3-3.

Seal Returns Still Timely

Although Middlesex County is still short of its 1950 Christmas Seal Sale quota, the Middlesex Health Association and the Arlington Tuberculosis Committee which conducted the Seal Sale are hopeful that the difference will be made up soon by the late returns now coming in, according to Miss Mary E. Leonard, Executive Director of the Middlesex Health Association.

Miss Leonard said that many of the late returns are accompanied by brief letters of explanation. For example, she added, one contribu-

Museum Showing Accident X-Rays

According to holiday statistics, the home-front weapons of reckless driving and ice pavement have again joined forces to produce the annual crop of broken bones.

But callous indifference gets a jolt when faced with a picture of the damage. A fractured skull means more on an X-ray than in headlines.

Recently installed at Boston's Museum of Science is an X-ray Exhibit which features a series of authentic negatives illustrating such mishaps as recorded at Boston City Hospital. The display forcefully illustrates the inevitable consequences of carelessness.

A broken elbow which needn't have happened, a painfully dislocated hip and a youngster's fractured skull present a grim picture of the dangers of everyday life. Young dare-devils and careless oldsters alike see the results of a thoughtless moment.

The Museum of Science, in co-operation with the medical profession, plans to vary the exhibit from time to time in the interests of a fuller understanding of bodily functions and modern techniques of diagnosis and treatment.

Clearly shown in the X-ray Exhibit, for instance, is the use of the Smith-Petersen nail and transfixion screw used by the surgeon to hold bone fragments in position. While the interpretation of these X-rays is an exact and difficult science, it becomes immediately apparent to the layman that there is infinitely more to a broken arm than the plaster cast and a few weeks in bed.

Jagged and splintered edges of a fractured skull are ample evidence that the skill of a neurosurgeon may not be enough to cheat death and accomplish what a moment of caution would have done.

Here at the Museum of Science, the exhibit from the scientist's point of view. He is confronted with the problem as the doctor sees it and learns how medical science rises to the occasion.

This exhibit, now on display at the Museum's temporary Headquarters, was loaned through the courtesy of the trustees of the Boston City Hospital. It will eventually

Concerts For Jewish Drive

The two Boston concerts of the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra, to be held in Symphony Hall on Saturday and Sunday, January 20 and 21, will give Bostonians an opportunity to hear one of the leading orchestras of the world, according to Samuel Markell, president of the Combined Jewish Appeal of Greater Boston, which is making the concerts possible.

Tickets are on sale at Symphony Hall or at Eileen's Personal Service, 100 State St. For the Saturday evening concert, which Dr. Serge Koussevitzky will conduct, sponsors tickets at $7.50 and a few singles are still available. There are seats in all price classifications for the Sunday afternoon performance which will be under the baton of Eleazar de Carvalho.

Making its first American tour, the Orchestra will present 57 concerts in 40 cities. Dr. Koussevitzky and Leonard Bernstein undertook the musical supervision of the Orchestra, traveling to Israel to prepare the musicians for their American performances.

Founded in 1936 by the late Bronislaw Huberman who recruited musicians from countries threatened by the encroachment of the Nazi regime, The Orchestra contains many of the concert masters of the great European orchestras of the time. Its full complement of 96 musicians include men and women who originally came from 13 different countries, but who today represent the true Israel culture. "The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra concerts will strengthen the bonds between Israel and the people of the United States," declared Mr. Markell.

The Israel Philharmonic Orchestra has been widely acclaimed by music lovers throughout the world, and outstanding artists and conly be a part of the Hall of Public Health at Science Park, first public health museum of its kind in New England.

ductors have traveled to Israel to perform with the ensemble. Guest conductors following Arturo Toscanini, who have first to conduct the orchestra, have been Dr. Malcolm Sargent, Charles Munch, Josef Rosenstock, William Steinberg and Bernardino Molinari. Among the noted soloists who have appeared with the Orchestra are Jascha Heifetz, Isaac Stern, Jennie Tourel, Zino Francescatti, Ida Haendel and Jan Peerce.

Upon completing his work with the Israel Philharmonic this Fall, Boston's own Leonard Bernstein said, "The Orchestra has never sounded as beautiful as now. As a matter of fact, I think they are the most inspired orchestra of the world—inspired by the pioneering spirit of their state and striving community." Bernstein is slated to conduct 30 of the Orchestra's American concerts.

Dr. Koussevitzky, upon his return from Israel, declared, "The American public is in for a big surprise. They will find, not only a great orchestra, but one which combines the greatest enthusiasm with a profound love and devotion to the art—to a degree which I must say, is found rarely even among the great nations of the world."

The balance sheet of General Accounts was received, read and filed. The usual Sunday licenses were granted.

A common victualer's license was granted to Partridge's Food Shop, 1040 Massachusetts ave.

The Board resolved to meet with the Sinking Fund Committee to discuss the replacement of Harrie H. Dadman, who had resigned from the committee.

Defeat Newton 4 To 2 Improved A.H.S. Icemen

The Arlington high school hockey sextet made it two out of three this week, downing a weak Newton high, 4 to 2, before an estimated 2854 fans at the Boston Arena, Saturday.

The powerful Rindge squad dropped off the top spot on the roster, Saturday, into a third place tie, with Arlington, losing to Melrose, 4 to 1.

Belmont, Arlington and Rindge are tied up in third place with two wins, one loss for a total of four points each.

Arlington could jump into first place Saturday if Melrose and Cambridge Alton lose, or tie. This would be a boon to the Burns' men who were supposed to be the number one cellar team this year.

In last Saturday's game, Newton battled it out for two periods with the Spy Ponders but could not keep up the fast pace set by the high schoolers.

Nobbie Timmons scored half way through the first period to give the Arlingtonians a 1-0 lead but early in the second period Joe Cavallo of Newton tied it up.

Timmons opened up again setting up Don O'Brien for the tie-breaker. Scott Coolidge and Don Cronin added the extra steam for the 4-2 win with Manchester for Newton adding their second goal.

Serving At Camp Kilmer

Camp Kilmer, N. J.—Ret. John J. Bradley Jr., whose wife lives at 22 Reed St., Arlington and whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bradley, live at 283 Forest St.

He is now undergoing basic training with the Transportation Corps' 9201st Provisional Training Battalion at this newly-reactivated Army installation.

The primary mission of the battalion is to give a six-week basic training course to new recruits who have been assigned to the 373rd and 377th Transportation Major Port units and the 450 Transportation Traffic Regulation Battalion, all Reserve organizations recently summoned to active duty.

On completion of the training cycle, the men return to their parent units for on-the-job training. Because Camp Kilmer lacks rifle range facilities, the men spend a week at nearby Fort Dix, where they complete an intensive instruction and firing schedule.

The 9201st is commanded by Maj. Harold A. Tidmarsh, a 1941 graduate of West Point, who served as an intelligence officer in Greece, and prior to assignment to Camp Kilmer, he was attached to the New York Port of Embarkation.

Named To B.U. Honor Society

New student initiates to Delta, Boston University's oldest honor society, at the College of Liberal Arts, were admitted recently in an impressive "tapping" ceremony held in their honor.

Delta, honor-service society founded in 1923 at the University College of Liberal Arts, chooses top-ranking students whose high scholastic merit and contributions to extra-curricular activity designate their eligibility.

Students seeking admission to the Delta ranks must earn a specific amount of points to justify their honorary membership.

Among the new initiates tapped last week were:

Arthur Alexander, 904 Massachusetts Avenue, Arlington.

Symmes Arlington Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Arjean (Helen I. McCarthy) of 80 Franklin Street, Arlington, a son named Richard Henry on December 23rd at Symmes Arlington Hospital.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:
It is with deepest regret that we of The Salvation learned of the passing of Edward C. Hildreth, who served as Treasurer of our Arlington Annual Appeal and of The Salvation Army Service Unit for the past sixteen years.

Mr. Hildreth had always been an enthusiast for The Salvation Army, and cooperated unflinchingly The Salvation Army, throughout the period of his service with us. I looked upon him as a personal friend.

Our heartfelt sympathy has also to the fullest extent possible in all of our endeavors as touching his community.

Aside from his relations with ready been extended to his widow, but we feel that we would be remiss indeed if we did not offer this public tribute to the memory of a tried and true friend of the Army, whom we shall greatly miss.

Sincerely yours,
